

Welcome

IV Consultants provides expert advice and project management for the built environment; specialising in the areas of facility management, project management and sustainability consulting services.

We believe that facility management is an integrated business activity – creating an environment that allows our clients to concentrate on their core business activities.

About Us

We provide comprehensive strategic consulting and project management services for the built environment.

IV Consultants

Established in 2007 and based in Port Melbourne, IV Consultants has partnered with a number of reputable, blue chip Australian companies. We believe that facility management is an integrated business activity – creating an environment that allows our clients to concentrate on their core business activities.

Objectives

- Maximise the value of your assets
- Enhance your organisational image through improved asset conditions
- Improve your facility management
- Reduce your environmental impact
- Deliver improved value for money

Philosophy

IV Consultants focuses on establishing an in depth understanding of your business, including culture, systems and processes, people and challenges, thereby providing tailored improvement solutions. We work alongside businesses to deliver facility management improvements aligned with core business strategies and activities.

IV Consultants focus on delivering superior value, timely delivery and exceptional results. We achieve this through expert knowledge, extensive industry experience and the ability to embrace your organisation's mission and culture.

What We Do

Our range of service offerings deliver increased value to your business through:

Facility Management

IV Consultants work closely with businesses to produce tailored facility management strategies through extensive consultation with clients and the auditing of existing activities and operations. Our strategies improve the use of facilities to reduce costs, increase productivity and improve asset condition.

Project Management

IV Consultants provide complete project management services. We conduct feasibility analyses, project management services to implement new strategies, and carry out post-implementation evaluations.

Environmental Strategies

IV Consultants can help you reduce your energy consumption and costs. We offer energy auditing services compliant with Australian Standards AS1680 and the EEO Act, as well as NABERS, CBD and Green Star ratings. We develop tailored environmental strategies, fully integrated with facility management.

Computer-Aided Facility Management (CAFM)

IV Consultants' CAFM solution supports our three main services. Our computer package allows our clients to better manage their facilities and follow newly implemented strategies – reducing overheads and maintenance costs. Our package includes modules such as helpdesk management, asset management and task-management & cost control modules. Advanced modules such as the energy monitoring module, project management module and the lifecycle modelling module are also available.

Further information is available on the MainManger brochure downloadable from the IV Consultants website.
